Is cyberpunk 2077 worth it reddit

I bought the game at launch and through owning a poor rig at the time and all the bugs, Cyberpunk was not enjoyable at all. I'd shelved the game at this point and never really expected to go back to it but I saw that patch 1.5 had dropped and many people were returning with mixed views. I finished the game today and here's my honest 'opinion' of the game now (without spoilers). Cyberpunk 2077 is a must-play title. That does not mean it's perfect, fully fixed, optimized or bug free BUT it comes down to expectations. As an immersive story, the game is stellar and when the game ended I wanted to stay. It's that feeling I got when I finished The Wire TV series. I didn't want it to end because I had become so immersed in the story. Even if the game launched today and we'd not seen the earlier bugs, I still think it would tank because people 'expect' a certain standard - especially following games like Red Dead Redemption 2 and GTA V. BUT if you play this game for the story then that is what makes it a must-play title. Gamers shouldn't miss out on the narrative of what happens in Night City. On V's story. So many of you (me included until today) are really missing out. It's not perfect and parts of the game are utter trash (like driving) but if you can look beyond that then you get an explosive, deep and emotionally charged narrative that I doubt you'll regret. It's never going to be my favourite game of all time - and I'll probably never run through it again - but I am very glad I played it. TL;DR: Look past what other people say and take your own journey through Night City. It's not perfect but it will feel like 'your' journey. The ending(s) alone is worth your time and there are some truly unmissable gaming moments along the way.
